In the above combination of Stallions, I will guarantee them to sire draft horses, general purpose horses, carriag horses, road horses and race horses. I will also guarantee the price of insurance right and reasonable, considering the class of Stallions they are. The day and age of the world is now here when it requires us to keep the best Stallions that money and judgment can buy-and it equally demands the Farmer and Mare Owners to select the best Stallions in which to bred,—as the good horses cost no more to raise than do the poor or medium ones, and the good one and proper bread one demands almost double the price when sold and often times much more. All I ask is to come and investigate my flock before breeding. Then use your pleasure and judgment. All colts insured to stand up.

Remember the best are the cheapest and none are too good.
